

Dear Students,

Are you interested in a career in medicine? If so you will know how difficult it can be to gain valuable work experience in this sector. Here is a great way to gain real insight into the medical world. Although this resource focuses on general practice it looks at general skills such as building rapport with patients which are useful across all medical roles.

Observe GP, is a free interactive video platform, created by the Royal College of General Practitioners for aspiring medics aged 16+. It provides insights into medicine, in particular general practice, through videos and activities and is launching on 30 April 2020.

At this time, young people interested in studying medicine are facing uncertainty and are unable to attend clinical work experience. We have been working for the past year towards creating this alternative digital solution and are pleased we can share it at this critical time.
